Renewal Application Information

How do I renew my scholarship for 2000-2001?

Simply complete the renewal application on the reverse side of this form and return to the Higher Education Coordinating Board. The deadline for renewal applications is May 1, 2000. Income verification or tax information is not required to renew your scholarship.

How much is the award worth this year?

The value of the award depends on how many eligible students qualify for the scholarship. The maximum award in 2000-2001 is $1,641, but it may be prorated. The exact value of the 2000-2001 award will be determined in July 2000.

Will the Promise Scholarship reduce my other grants and scholarships?

The Promise Scholarship is intended to have a minimal impact on other financial aid. If you qualify to receive need-based aid, however, and also receive the Promise Scholarship, it is possible that your existing financial aid package may have to be modified to avoid an over-award situation. Over-awards are prohibited by federal and state student aid regulations.

I will not attend college in Washington in 2000-2001. Can I use the award next year?

No. 1999 Promise Scholarship recipients must use their awards by June 30, 2001.

Can I use the scholarship to attend college in another state?

No. The scholarship must be used at an accredited college physically located in Washington. This includes the branch campuses of out-of-state schools as long as the branch is located and classes are delivered in Washington.

How do I receive my scholarship? When will it arrive at my college?

Funds are disbursed each term and sent directly to the Washington college at which you enroll. The college will request your scholarship after verifying your eligibility. You will receive payments for fall, winter, and spring quarters or fall and spring semesters. Colleges may begin requesting payments 30 days prior to the start of the term. You should be prepared to pay all education costs until the scholarships are disbursed.

In what instances should I notify the HECB?

Please notify the Board if you change your permanent address, your telephone number, or your choice of college(s).
